CALL FOR APPLICATION FOR A RESEARCH SCHOLARSHIP

Ref^a: Bolsa de Investigação Cousin _ BI-1

Portuguese version

A call for tenders is now open for the attribution of one Research Scholarship within the scope of the Project “COUSIN - Crop Wild Relatives utilization and conservation for sustainable agriculture (Ref.^a 101135314)” financed by European funds through Horizon Europe – HORIZON-CL6-2023-BIODIV-01-13 - European Commission, under the following conditions, set out below.

Scientific area: Biological Sciences

Admission requirements:

General requirements:

Candidates for the Research grant must, at the date of application, be registered, or present a commitment to enroll in a study cycle conferring an academic Doctoral degree (3rd Cycle). After selection, in order to initiate the contracting process for the grant, the candidate must enroll in the doctoral program in Biotechnology at the School of Biotechnology of the Portuguese Catholic University, in accordance with the theme and work plan of the grant to be carried out within the scope of the above-identified project and supervised by the team identified for the implementation of the work plan.

Candidates must have a BSc and MSc in Biological Sciences, Agronomic Sciences, or a related field.

Specific requirements:

Candidates must also have knowledge/research experience in the following areas:

- Plant Physiology
- Molecular Biology
- Metabolomics
- Proficiency in statistical analysis software

Candidates must have an interest in the scientific field and a good command of the English language (both written and spoken). Additionally, the work plan includes periods of stay at a foreign institution, so the grant holder is expected to be available for such travel.

Preferred Factors:

Preferential factors include the ability to work well in a team, in a multidisciplinary and multicultural environment. Publications that demonstrate results in the above areas in peer-reviewed scientific journals and communications at national and international scientific meetings will be valorized.

Work Plan:

The candidate will have as main tasks and goals:

T1: Evaluate the effect of temperature and water stress (individual and combined) on the morphophysiological and physiological characteristics of different species (domesticated and wild) to understand the impact of domestication and interspecific differences in response to these stresses.

T2: Identify quality characteristics impacted by combined stress, including those related to proximal composition and other bioactive compounds.

T3: Explore hormonal signaling pathways (involved in stress response and affecting nutritional quality), stress-related enzyme activity (which may be directly linked to the increase of bioactive compounds, some with antinutritional functions), and N assimilation enzymes (essential for the incorporation of N into organic compounds like amino acids and proteins).

T4: Conduct metabolomic analysis to identify metabolic pathways and candidate genes to be evaluated.

T5: Develop an explanatory model and infographic to support the differential responses observed in Tasks 1-4.

T6: Develop educational campaigns to raise awareness about the need to preserve and maintain the diversification of species and subspecies (including the importance of their wild relatives).

It will be necessary to submit the following documents:

- 1) Cover letter, identifying the title and reference of the project, describe the motivation and professional objectives of the candidate.
- 2) Detailed Curriculum Vitae (should contain all the elements to assess the admission requirements, including language knowledge and research experience).
- 3) Copy of the certificate(s) of qualifications conferring academic degree in the terms requested in the notice, which contain the final classifications.
- 4) Registration of recognition of the academic degree awarded by a foreign higher education institution, preferably with the registration of the conversion of the respective final classification to the Portuguese classification scale to guarantee eligibility in this call for application¹.
- 5) Proof of registration or letter with the commitment to register/enroll in a degree-awarding study cycle under the terms already described in this notice ².

Only applications received during the opening period of the above-mentioned call shall be considered. Candidates who incorrectly formalize their application or who do not prove the requirements of this call are excluded. False statements made by applicants will be punished under the law.

Privacy Policy:

Universidade Católica Portuguesa is the controller responsible for the processing of Personal Data in accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 – General Regulation on Data Protection.

The personal data processed in the scope of this tender procedure is processed within the framework of said tender procedure only and will be processed by Universidade Católica Portuguesa with the purpose of verifying the fulfilment, by the candidates, of the assumptions established in the applicable legislation for their contracting. Opposition to the processing of data by the candidates will make it impossible to accept the application and, therefore, to analyse and evaluate it.

¹ If the required academic degree has been conferred by a foreign higher education institution, it must comply with the Portuguese legislation on the recognition of foreign degrees, regulated by DL no. 66/2018 of 16 August.

Applicants are advised to consult the website of the Directorate-General for Higher Education (DGES) for additional information on this matter: <https://www.dges.gov.pt/pt/pagina/reconhecimento>

² The contracting of the research scholarship requires the candidate to provide enrollment in the degree-awarding course required in this notice. If the document is not presented within a maximum period of 30 days (in a row), counting from the date of communication of the selection to the candidate, the Jury Panel will have the power to disqualify the application due to failure to present the registration within the aforementioned period.
