CALL FOR APPLICATION FOR A RESEARCH SCHOLARSHIP

Refª VIIAFOOD_SONAE_Proteínas _BI_1

Portuguese Version

A call for tenders is now open for the attribution of one Research Scholarship within the scope of the “Integrated Project Agenda VIIAFOOD – Platform for Valorization, Industrialization and Commercial Innovation for the Agri-food Sector”, specifically in the sub-project Proteins “New and Nutritious Ingredients” framed within the Invitation to Proposal No. 02/C05-i01/2022.” financed by the Recovery and Resilience Programme (PRR) under the following conditions, set out below.

Scientific area: Agricultural products, Biotechnology, Nutritional sciences .

Admission requirements:

General requirements:

Candidates for the Research grant must hold a degree in MSc. in the area of Biotechnology, Nutrition, By-Products valorization or related areas.

Specific requirements:

Candidates must also have knowledge/research experience in the following areas:

- Fluency in English (oral and written).
- Previous research experience in the field of functional foods and development of new food ingredients.
- Experience in research projects.
- Evidence of international scientific publications.

Preferred Factors:

Will be considered preferred factors:

- Experience in chemical and functional characterization techniques of food ingredients.
- Knowledge and use of instrumental separation and analytical techniques, such as HPLC.
- Experience in shelf-life evaluation methodologies, including physicochemical, microbiological, and sensory parameters.

- Knowledge of rheological and texture characterization techniques applied to foods and prototypes.
- Previous participation in research projects focused on the valorization of agro-industrial by-products.

Candidates for the Research scholarship must also be enrolled or commit to enrolling in a course that does not lead to an academic degree that promotes the consolidation of their scientific training¹.

Work Plan:

The activity to be developed by the research fellow is part of a research project whose main objective is the development of food products based on alternative proteins, promoting the valorization of agro-industrial by-products and the creation of sustainable and nutritious ingredients.

The research fellow will participate in the final phase of the project, to be carried out at the CBQF – Centre for Biotechnology and Fine Chemistry of the Universidade Católica Portuguesa – Escola Superior de Biotecnologia.

The main activities include:

- Development and optimization of innovative food formulations, focusing on protein alternatives.
- Evaluation of product stability and shelf-life, considering microbiological, sensory, and physicochemical parameters.
- Processing and interpretation of experimental data using statistical tools and predictive modelling.
- Preparation of progress reports and dissemination of results through scientific communications and publications.

The final goal will be to contribute to the development of sustainable and technologically viable food products, strengthening scientific knowledge and innovation capacity in the field of alternative proteins and by-product valorization.

Applicable legislation and regulations:

- Statute of the Scientific Research Fellow: <https://dre.pt/web/guest/legislacao-consolidada/-/lc/58216179/view?w=2019-08-28>;

¹ Candidates are given the possibility, at the application stage, to submit only a declaration of commitment to enroll in a course that does not confer an academic degree under the terms mentioned above. If the candidate is selected, the delivery failure of the effective enrollment document for the course, within ten working days, following the date of communication of the selection, will be considered as withdrawal of the candidate for the scholarship investigation for which you were selected
